

MAYOR TO EXPOSE HEARST AND HYLAN

Promises to Tell in 24 Hours
Real Reason for Strange Deal.

Mitchel Says Disclosure Will Prove Issue of Americanism Is Vital.

Both John F. Hyland, Tammany candidate for Mayor, and William R. Hearst, his chief supporter, having failed to comply with Mayor Mitchell's demand that they tell the "real" reason why Mr. Hearst is so anxious to place Mr. Hyland in the Mayor's office, Mayor Mitchell last night announced he would make public "the real reason" within twenty-four hours.

No intimation of the contents of Mr. Mitchell's forthcoming blast was obtainable in his office at Fulton headquarters, although it was stated the nature of the disclosure would "convince" thoroughly any doubting minds that there is an issue of Americanism in this campaign and that for very good reasons Judge Hyland has endeavored to dodge this issue.

"I have asked John F. Hyland what he has ever done to win the support of Mr. Hearst and the Ridders," said the Mayor last night. "I have asked Mr. Hearst this question, 'I have asked the Ridders, 'one has answered.'"

"For the last time I have demanded from these men the real reason for the Hyland nomination. Their refusal is evidently final. I shall therefore make public the answer within twenty-four hours."

Hearst's Significant Omission.

Continuing, the Mayor said: "That Mr. Hearst realizes the importance of my question is shown by the fact that he devotes two columns of his newspaper to reprinting a telegram which is now two months old, not an answer but an alibi. This reprint is especially interesting not only because of what it repeats, but because of what it fails to repeat."

"In the reprint, Mr. Hearst repeats that he has 'supported Judge Hyland several times in his political campaigns.' He repeats that his high opinion of Judge Hyland was confirmed by Judge Hyland's 'loyalty, unselfish purpose.' He repeats that to have entered the primary against Judge Hyland would have been 'unfair to the great cause which we all have primarily at heart.'"

"Mr. Hearst repeats everything that he said about Judge Hyland last September, with the exception of one paragraph. This paragraph is worth consideration."

"In his original telegram last September, Mr. Hearst said: 'I know of no man in public life who is more honorable than Judge Hyland, more courageous or more fit to lead in this battle in behalf of the public welfare.'"

"Mr. Hearst does not include this statement in his new version. It may be well to consider the reason that Mr. Hearst omits this statement. It is a reference to Judge Hyland's courage and fitness for leadership."

New Drama of Three Weeks.

"Something has happened since last September to make it expedient for Mr. Hearst to omit any reference to Judge Hyland's honor."

"I assume that this is the exposure of Judge Hyland's relations with the arch swindler Gossin, and his failure, as the legal representative of the Black Diamond Automobile Company, to put in an answer to the suit which he acted as attorney for himself."

"Something has happened since last September to make it expedient for Mr. Hearst to omit any reference to Judge Hyland's courage. I assume that this is the humiliating spectacle which Judge Hyland has presented in scurrying like a frightened rabbit from every issue in hiding from reports of his cowardice. I assume that he has suspected that questions might be asked, and in hiring a lawyer to defend him when his personal character was attacked, instead of facing a public platform and meeting his accusers like a man."

"Something has happened since last September to make it expedient for Mr. Hearst to omit any reference to Judge Hyland's fitness for leadership. I assume that this is the conviction which has been driven home to the public that Judge Hyland cannot open his mouth without permission; that he cannot discuss a public question without assistance; that he is hopelessly ignorant of the duties of the office which he seeks, and that he cannot appear upon a public platform without a manuscript prepared by some one else."

Even Hearst Shrink!

"In concluding his September telegram to Judge Hyland, Mr. Hearst declared: 'I present my compliments and congratulations to Judge Hyland, and while I am unable to be in New York during the period of the primaries I shall certainly endeavor to be there during the campaign and render to him and to the cause such service as I can.'"

"Mr. Hearst has kept his promise. He has done all that there was to be done for Judge Hyland. He has presented the best defense he could for the man whom he selected, but even Mr. Hearst shrinks from the discussion of the honor, courage and leadership of the man whose honor, courage and leadership have been pilloried in the public press for the past three weeks."

"In 1914 a prominent German newspaper described Mr. Hearst as the greatest champion of the German cause in America. For three years Mr. Hearst has been giving a public demonstration of what this German eulogy meant."

PATRIOTIC WOMAN HECKLES HILLQUIST

Miss Georgia Owen Demands to Know if He Favors a German Peace.

Certain college professors, ex-college professors, Phi Beta Kappa members and recent illustrious leaders of the Socialist municipal ticket to the number of nearly 500 last night held an "experience dinner" in honor of Morris Hillquist, his candidate for Mayor, at the Fifth Avenue Restaurant. As announced by the committee, among those present were Oswald Garrison Villard, owner of the New York Evening Post; Amos Pinchot, Frederic C. Howe, Commissioner of Immigration, and Helen Phillips Stokes.

As the Rev. Allan McCurdy, pastor of the Morningstar Presbyterian Church, who acted as chairman, announced, the gathering had "manifest evidences of respectability." J. A. H. Hopkins, former treasurer of the Progressive party; Gilbert H. Row, a woman suffrage advocate of New York, and Mr. Pinchot spoke; a lengthy report was read from Dudley Field Malone.

All of these features received due applause, and in response to a cry for a $50,000 campaign fund, $2,500 was donated. One-tenth of this amount was the contribution of Mr. Pinchot.

Woman Interrupts Hillquist.

But when it came to Mr. Hillquist's speech there was a dissenting cry. It was a single cry but a determined one and in a woman's voice. The Socialist candidate had just told his applauding "respectable" audience what the matter with the country's war policy, and with the applause came the challenging of a short distance from the speaker's stand.

"Mr. Hillquist, do you want a German peace? Are you an American? Don't you stand behind the President? What do you want in an American peace. The people want only that."

The woman was Miss Georgiana Owen, founder of the Junior Patriots of America. She had come to the dinner with one woman friend, and as the crowd immediately showed signs of a distinctly hostile attitude toward her, she walked out quickly after her demands. Through the uproar, Hillquist made himself heard, and appealed to his supporters to allow him to answer a perfectly proper question.

"I am not in favor of a German peace, or a British peace, or any peace that implies the subjugation or humiliation of any nation," replied the candidate. "I am sorry the lady has gone, because I wished to answer her question." He then added that he stands behind the President when he speaks in words of his peace offer of last winter.

"I am an American, if by the term is meant a citizen who seeks the greatest welfare of his country and his fellow citizens. No profiteer can monopolize the term 'American.' I stand behind the President when the President is right, but behind the people all of the time."

BENNETT ASSERTS IT'S MONEY DEBAUCH

Candidate Says Mitchell Is Using Lucro to Win in the Race.

In four speeches in as many places William M. Bennett, who still believes he is in the Mayor's race, proclaimed last night the certainty of his election by an overwhelming majority and added that the Mayor's backers are sending out all sorts of false stories in a desperate attempt to prevent Mr. Mitchell from running fourth.

"Every day of the campaign," he continued, "develops more and more that Mitchell's backers are trying to debauch the electorate by the use of money. I shall carry Kings, Queens and Richmond counties by a large majority. If the voters in Manhattan and the Bronx will stand by their principles, as I have no doubt they will, there is absolutely no possibility of my defeat."

"Mr. Samuel R. Koenig, county chairman of New York county, has abdicated in favor of a Democrat and all the machinery of the New York county organization and of the Bronx has been turned over to the use of Democrats. This disgusting spectacle brought about solely by the use of money will not meet with the approval of the rank and file of the voters. I shall get the bulk of the Republican vote in all five boroughs."

Mr. Bennett spoke at 145th street and Eighth avenue, at the Woodhaven Republican Club, in Queens county, at Public School No. 27, Ridgewood, Queens, and at the United Italian-American Republican Club, Brooklyn.

BEAT KAISER HERE, MITCHEL WARNING

Election of Candidate of Germany's Best Friend Would Prolong the War.

EIGHT AUDIENCES CHEER

Mayor Sees Lesson in Russian Dissension That Made Italian Drive Possible.

Mayor John Purroy Mitchell told eight large crowds which greeted him last night during a rapid tour of attack on Tammany in Brooklyn and Manhattan that the election of a Hearst controlled candidate for Mayor of New York would be encouragement to Germany to continue the war. He hammered home the fact that it was by the creation of dissension in Russia that Germany was able to make her new drive into Italy, and declared that Berlin would not get the same result in New York that she had obtained in Russia.

At Prospect Hall, in Brooklyn, 2,500 persons cheered the Mayor's Springing over to the Academy of Music he talked to 2,800 more Brooklynites, and then crossed the river to Cooper Union, where 800 Italians greeted him and two families presented flowers to him. The little ones started a popular demonstration when they appeared on the stage.

Leah Hall, at Broadway and Eighty-third street, was the next stop, and in regular order came Empire Hall, 118th street and Eighth avenue; Blaney's Hall, 181st street and St. Nicholas avenue; the Manhattan Casino, Eighth avenue and 155th street, and the Palace Casino, 14 East 135th street.

Get What They Deserve.

"The people," said the Mayor to his several audiences, "get what they deserve, and they get what they deserve. It is for you to decide. You can say whether it is worth while to save the little children who have been protected from the griping and the poverty, the food and the other evils of Tammany administration."

"It is for you to say whether you want the Police Department under a Devery or under Arthur Woods, who has lifted the department out of politics that it might truly serve the people."

The Mayor went over his former charges of the connection between Judge Hyland and A. R. Goslin, of his Black Diamond business deals and charged that he was backed by Hearst, "the most disloyal of disloyal scoundrels."

He then took up the new success of the German arms against Italy and drew this conclusion:

"If it is not true that the reason that the hosts of Germany have been crowned with success these last few days against the Italians is due to the fact that Germany has succeeded in injecting dissension into Russia?"

"Germany is trying to do the same thing here. She has tried it since the outbreak of the war. She is trying to get a verdict from the one great community which registers a vote of popular opinion, and she is trying to get it inspired by the man who has been described in German newspapers as 'the best friend the Kaiser ever had in the United States' should prevail."

"If Germany can do this she will feel that she has ground for believing we are divided here at home and she will be encouraged to continue the war."

Negroes Hiss the Mayor.

The Mayor ran head on into the worst storm of his campaign when he reached the Palace Casino, where 1,500 hostile negroes were waiting to receive him. They were under the direction of Chandler Owens and A. P. Randolph, the leaders of the Hillquist forces in the black belt.

During recent days the Socialists have invaded the negro sections and their teachings have gone like wildfire among the dusky brethren. They had grilled Col. Roosevelt rather roughly before the Mayor came along and were "all hot up" over the prospect of getting a try at the Mayor.

Police Commissioner Woods had a tip that the passage was to be stormy, and he had, without the knowledge of the Mayor, ordered twenty-five policemen to the hall. When the Mayor began the negroes drowned him with hisses.

Twenty policemen started down the aisle.

"What are those officers doing coming down the center aisle?" inquired the Mayor. Then he turned sharply to them and commanded:

"You go back to the back of the hall; I don't need your help."

The nervous delusion caught the crowd and it let him get over a very good talk, with occasional breaks of hissing and roughhouse work.

The same audience had absolutely refused to permit Marcus M. Marks to talk, and they had to stand hunched over the Mayor, in his best fighting mood, told them that he was fighting traitors.

HYLAN PROMISES TO BOOST QUEENS

He Is Going to Eliminate Rockefeller Interests When He Becomes Mayor.

More or less impressive campaign ceremonies were conducted last night in Queens by Judge John F. Hyland, Tammany candidate for Mayor, and his associate speakers. The Judge had a paper along that was written in a clear, lucid, Arthur Brisbane style, which he read at four meetings after having been properly introduced by Edward Lazansky, candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court. Said Mr. Lazansky in the impressive introduction:

"Of my own candidacy I have little to say this evening. I am here to introduce the next Mayor of New York city, for just as sure as we are in this beautiful hall (the introduction was like this at a hall in College Point, Flushing High School, Elmhurst High School and Schuette Park Hall in Astoria)—just as sure as we are in this beautiful hall—as sure as the darkness above us will mellow into a golden dawn—just as sure as the winter will be followed by the spring and its flowers and sprays—just as sure will the next Mayor of New York be Judge John F. Hyland."

And Mr. Lazansky, like Camille in Act III, declared the Judge to be the "water pitcher, and great applause."

Talks on Queens Needs.

Judge Hyland's paper was written in the usual public-spirited, economic vein, and line of Tammany attack, except that it gave some emphasis to public utility "conditions" in Queens.

"I know something about the needs of this borough and about its long suffering at the hands of the privately owned utility companies," he read. "The Rockefeller interests, through the Consolidated Gas Company, control the New York and Queens Electric Light and Power Company and the New York and Queens Gas Company, the two great companies which furnish you with electric light and gas in the same way that they control those operated in Manhattan and the Bronx. These same Rockefeller interests control the traction lines of this borough and about its long suffering at the hands of the privately owned utility companies."

"If you expect municipal ownership from a Mayor and a city administration dominated by those interests," through five long minutes of exposure were interpolated the Tammany promises.

And while we are at work putting into effect this principle of municipal ownership and operation, to which the Democratic candidates are pledged," the Judge continued, "I promise you that every attention shall be given to the immediate needs of this borough, and the full force of my administration shall be exerted to bring immediate and adequate relief to the people of this borough and to compel proper service at reasonable rates from the public service corporations that now operate here."

His Work in Brooklyn.

The Judge pointed out "what I have done in Brooklyn." He told his hearers that they knew of the long fight which he successfully waged to compel the R. T. to give adequate service to the people of his home borough.

"When I am Mayor," he promised, "I shall make the same effort and the same fight for the people of all the boroughs."

Referring to the advent of Col. Roosevelt into the New York campaign Judge Hyland read that he was willing to accord to Col. Roosevelt a full measure of devotion and love for his country, but that he demanded that Col. Roosevelt accord him the same measure of loyalty and patriotism. Then there was a sort of threat for Col. Roosevelt.

"If he comes here to discuss the issues of this campaign well and good," the Judge read. "But if he comes here to challenge my patriotism or that of the party whose candidate I am he will not have a pleasant visit to our city."

FACTS JUST REVERSED

Jewish Leaders Come Out in Warm Support of Mayor Mitchell.

Another striking example of the misinformation John F. Hyland, Tammany candidate for Mayor, has furnished last night by the Tax Department in a statement showing the falsity of Judge Hyland's charge that the real estate tax assessments on holdings of prominent men who are supporting the Mayor have been considerably reduced during the Mayor's administration. Judge Hyland endeavored by his figures to show that these assessments were reduced because of the Mayor's friendship with the owners, and that the burden of the reductions fell on the other taxpayers.

In the statement issued by Judge Hyland's campaign managers Sunday night it was claimed that these reductions totaled more than $29,000,000, which was more than $600,000 in taxes saved by the men mentioned. The figures supplied by the Tax Department showed that instead of reductions having been made on the property mentioned by Judge Hyland, the assessments have been steadily increased since 1914.

Central Taxed on $20,000,000 More.

In the Hyland statement it was charged that the assessments on the property of the New York Central Railroad Company during the Mayor's administration had been reduced more than $40,000,000. As a matter of fact, the assessments for 1914 and 1915 were $749,800 and $749,800, in 1916, $749,800, in 1917, $749,800, in 1918, $749,800, in 1919, $749,800, a total of $30,000,000.

"Some of the public service corporations named in the Hyland statement as receiving reductions," says the Tax Department, "are the following, every one of which has been increased since 1914: The Third Avenue Railroad an increase of $749,800; the New York and Queens Electric Light and Power Company, an increase of $749,800; the Manhattan Light and Power Company, an increase of $749,800; the New York Telephone Company, $13,792,800, a total rise here of more than $24,000,000 in increase."

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company was also named by Mr. Hyland as having had its assessments reduced. The assessments for this company have been increased $556,100 since the Mayor took office.

The above figures are the official records of the Tax Department. They absolutely refute the charges of Judge Hyland and indicate that the Hyland statement was put out without even an attempt to examine the records of the city.

While the Judge and his campaign managers continue to complain about the Mayor's friendship for prominent business men, the Sanitary Association, in the basement of 67 St. Mark's place, came out for Mr. Hyland yesterday.

Hillquist Vows Votes Hyland Seeks.

"The interesting thing about this association coming out for Hyland," said Mr. Buckner, "is that its membership includes some of the men who were prosecuted in the Rosenthal murder trial and the association evidently wants a change in the Police Department."

Mr. Buckner further charged last night that the investigations of the fusion manager show that Morris Hillquist, the Socialist candidate, is now making a strong bid "for the vote Hyland is secretly trying for."

"This vote is the un-American vote, the disloyal vote and the unpatriotic vote," said Mr. Buckner. "If Hyland would openly repudiate such of its supporters as Buckner, Cochran and Devoe and tell them to go and vote for Hillquist, then you would have a clear cut battle between Hyland and Hillquist. But he won't do it because he needs and wants their support."

Although Judge Hyland himself continues to ignore the challenge of Timothy Healy, the labor leader, that the latter say whether he was a "scab" or not in the Brooklyn trolley strike of 1916.

Mr. Kahn in a letter to Mr. Healy asserted that the strike was confined entirely to the trolley lines and that Judge Hyland was a member, and still is, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Mr. Healy last night repeated his charges and dared Mr. Hyland himself to answer.

Jewish Leaders Indorse Mitchell.

The candidacy of Mayor Mitchell was vigorously indorsed yesterday by Jacob H. Schiff and Adolph Lewisohn. Mr. Schiff said:

"Ahead of anything else I am supporting Mayor Mitchell and his associates because of the splendid business-like, non-partisan administration we have enjoyed for the past four years and, secondly, because past experiences have taught me that only the reverse of this can be expected from an administration under the influence of Tammany Hall."

Adolph Lewisohn said:

"I have thoroughly and attentively observed conditions under the various city administrations for a great many years, and I am fully convinced that the present administration has been vastly superior to any we have ever had before. Fusion to-day stands for good government, good appointments in every branch of public service, honesty and efficiency, and because of this I think Mayor Mitchell should be continued in office. Any change would be most harmful to the city."

Another hard blow at Tammany was delivered yesterday by George Haven Putnam, president of the American Rights League. "In 'Fighting' Tammany," he said, "I have been a voice in the State for nearly fifty-three years, and I do not know of any administration that has had in its hands during that period the responsibility of directing the affairs of the city which has rendered such distinctly excellent service as that which New Yorkers have secured from Mr. Mitchell and his associates."

The Robert Adamson Campaign Committee last night pointed out the vital necessity of electing a fusion Board of Estimate if Tammany's clutches are to be kept out of the city treasury.

How a Western Army Officer has protected his Family

A YOUNG Westerner, now an army officer, recently made a trust agreement with us, by which we relieved both him and his wife of all responsibility and anxiety about business matters.

The management of his entire property has been put into our hands. We will collect income, re-invest the principal, see to income tax matters, and to all other details.

A liberal remittance will be made to his wife regularly each month, and the remainder of the income will be credited to his account, on which he can draw drafts either while he is in this country or abroad.

The officer may end this trust at any time he wishes, or may change it to meet changing conditions. It is practically a will since it provides for disposing of all property except the home and a few personal belongings.

We can relieve you or those dependent on you of worry about the care of property, and we invite you to come in and talk over the matter with our Trust Department officers.
